The horse-side
diagnostics people

IgG testing made instant.

Instant results can save lives.

Sometimes you can't wait for the lab. When a foal's life depends on timely results, Sidekick gives you real-time data for an accurate diagnosis and on-the-spot treatment.

Progesterone testing made convenient.

Your client's peace of mind is in your hands.

When you test by the horse's side and show a concrete result right away, clients can understand the diagnosis and feel confident in next steps. With a tool this easy, you may wonder how you ever went without it.

ACTH testing made simple.

Capture the data.
Save the legwork.

With Sidekick, you can diagnose PPID in 10 minutes and get back to the job at hand. Eliminate the back-and-forth with our 21st-Century solution to ACTH testing.

Partners with experience.

The originators of horse-side testing are back, with an advanced new platform for equine diagnostics. Created by our team of scientists, engineers, designers and software developers, our test reader provides spot-on quantitative results in minutes.

Every hero needs a sidekick.

Save trips to the lab, save money, and save the day. This handheld diagnostic tool is an indispensable part of today's veterinary practice. With multi-test capability and a powerful app, it's future-proofed and user-friendly.
